

Feedback on Fixread online courses and course books

David Levy, Ruppin Academic Center

Bella,

I do think that you have a most wonderful product. Especially your interactive version. It is self-contained. Excellent for a more self-paced, more independent way of learning. And such good timing, specifically now, during Covid 19 time, when the course is being conducted remotely.

I think you and Livia are amazing. And so is Fixread. I really mean it!

Keren Shani, Ohalo College

Dear Bella,

First of all, let me tell you how much I'm enjoying the book!

It's so easy and intuitive, the feedback is informative, it seems everything was thought through - really well done!

Dov A. Bloom, Hemdat Hadarom Academic College of Education

Dear Bella,

Last year we used the Fixread online course.

I found the course to be very well constructed.

It enabled the students, who came from middle-to-low academic and socio-economic backgrounds, to progress in a graded fashion.

There were sufficient exercises for learning and review, as well as significant texts on an appropriate level.

The course demanded from the students a good deal of work, but in small "bites", so it was not so daunting.

We did surveys about the difficulty and time and effort the course took, and the mean results were very satisfactory.

The course was, after the initial orientation, easy to use. The students reported that they felt they had learned much during the course.

I find the effort of those who constructed this course to be worthy of support by those who want to promote innovative and useful educational programs.

Moshe Sevi, Jerusalem College of Technology (Machon Lev)

After 10 years teaching pre-academic English courses and experimenting with a variety of course books, I was fortunately introduced to A Reader's Guide To Academic English.

This student-friendly book is a pleasure to use and its methodical follow up vocab and language exercises were particularly useful to my students.

The choice of texts though overly Western culture orientated, nevertheless aroused lively class discussion; the students drawing on parallel Israeli issues.

All in all, this book surpasses the other course books I have used so far.

Claudia Teper, Sapir College

Dear Livia,

First of all, I want to tell you that the book is fascinating, and our students enjoy it very much. It's exactly what pre-academic students needed.

Pluchik Marianna, Ashkelon Academic College

Hi Livia,

The book is very useful and well written.

There are basic reading strategies, which are well explained, and well organized.

The students found the explanations very helpful and could benefit from the material. There is a quite extensive lexical repertoire, which allowed to focus on the vocabulary of the text.

The topics of the texts were interesting and relevant.

Thank you so much.
